9. Plaintiff was walking in the vicinity of White Plains Road and Mace Avenue, Bronx, NY, along with her children and grandchildren.
10. All of a sudden, numerous NYPD Officers approached Plaintiff and her family, instructing her two sons to put their hand against the wall. They complied with the officers’ instructions.

11. Her sons were then handcuffed.
12. In shock, and in fear for her sons' safety, Plaintiff said to the officers, "Please don't hurt my kids."
13. In response, one of the officer's began cursing at Plaintiff and telling her to "get back," and so she complied.
14. Next, an officer grabbed Plaintiff by her right arm, pushed her into the corner Bodega, and started screaming at her, "You black bitch. All you black people do is commit crimes and you're all going down."
15. Plaintiff was then handcuffed and she asked, "What crime did we commit," but the officer just kept screaming and cursing at her.
16. Next, an officer grabbed her nine (9) year old daughter, Lakyra, by the arm and told her to 'move the fuck back.'
17. Plaintiff's fifteen (15) year old daughter, Lakyra, objected to the way the officer grabbed her younger sister, saying, "She's a little girl, why are you grabbing her?"
18. In response, the officer pushed Lakyra.
19. Plaintiff and her two sons were taken to the 49th Precinct for processing.
20. Plaintiff spent about 12 hours and 45 minutes at the precinct before being transported to Central Booking for arraignment.
21. Plaintiff then spent about nine hours at Central Booking before seeing a judge.
22. At arraignment, Plaintiff learned that she had been charged Resisting Arrest and the matter was adjourned in contemplation of dismissal.
23. Plaintiff's sons were released without ever seeing a judge.

34. Accordingly, NYPD Officers JOHN DOES 1-10 who failed to intervene violated the Fourth, Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments.
35. As a direct and proximate result of this unlawful conduct, Plaintiff sustained the damages hereinbefore alleged.

FOURTH CLAIM
MONELL CLAIM

36. Plaintiff repeats and realleges each and every allegation as if fully set forth herein.
37. The City of New York is a “person” within the meaning of 42 U.S.C. §1983.
38. The acts complained of were carried out by the aforementioned defendants in their capacities as police officers and officials pursuant to customs, policies, usages, practices, procedures and rules of the City and NYPD, all under the supervision of ranking officers of the NYPD.
39. The City is liable for the damages suffered by Plaintiff as a result of the conduct of their employees, agents, servants, in that, after learning of their employees’ violation of Plaintiff’s constitutional rights, they failed to remedy the wrong; they have created a policy and/or custom under which unconstitutional practices occurred and allowed such policies or customs to continue, and they have been grossly negligent in managing subordinates who caused the unlawful condition or event.

40. The City has been alerted to the regular use of excessive force and false arrests by its police officers, but has nevertheless exhibited deliberate indifference to such excessive force and false arrests; that deliberate indifference caused the violation of Plaintiff's constitutional rights in this case.

41. The Incident that Plaintiff complains of is not an isolated incident. The City has been aware for some time, from lawsuits, notices of claim, complaints filed with the Civilian Complaint Review Board, and judicial rulings suppressing evidence and finding officers incredible as a matter of law, that a disturbing number of the City's police officers use excessive force, unlawfully search and seize citizens, bring charges against citizens with no legal basis, perjure themselves in charging instruments and testimony, and fail to intervene in and report the obvious illegal actions of their fellow officers. Nevertheless, the City has allowed policies and practices that allow the aforementioned to persist.

42. In addition, the well documented failures of the Civilian Complaint Review Board ("the CCRB"), a City agency, to substantiate obviously meritorious citizen complaints have gone uncorrected. The CCRB regularly finds complainants lack credibility based on the fact that such complainants have also brought lawsuits to remedy the wrongs they have experienced, a practice that often results in not substantiating the most serious charges brought to them. In addition, the CCRB virtually never initiates their own findings of false statements against officers who have made false statements to the CCRB in their own defense, nor do they initiate findings that officers have failed to report their fellow officers' misconduct; thus, officers have no real incentive to come forward, or to testify truthfully at the CCRB. The CCRB has no enforcement mechanisms once making a finding against an officer; it can only make recommendations to the NYPD, once finding misconduct by an officer.

43. The NYPD, once receiving a substantiated complaint by the CCRB, fails to adequately discipline officers for misconduct. The NYPD Department Advocate, which is endowed with the responsibility of following-up on substantiated CCRB charges, is understaffed and under-utilized. Furthermore, in the extraordinarily rare event that the CCRB substantiates a complaint and the Department Advocate proves the case in an internal trial against an officer, the police commissioner still maintains the power to reduce the discipline against such an officer.
44. Further, the City has no procedure to notify individual officers or their supervisors of unfavorable judicial review of their conduct. Without this notification, improper search and seizure practices and incredible testimony go uncorrected. Additionally, according to a report of the New York City Bar Association issued in 2000, the City has isolated its law department from the discipline of police officers so that civil suits against police officers for actions taken in their capacity as police officers have no impact on the officers' careers, regardless of the outcome of the civil actions.
45. The City is aware that all of the aforementioned has resulted in violations of citizens' constitutional rights. Despite such notice, the City has failed to take corrective action. This failure and these policies caused the officers in the present case to violate Plaintiff's civil rights without fear of reprisal.
46. Plaintiff has been damaged as a result of the deliberate indifference of the City to the constitutional rights of the City's inhabitants.

47. As a result of the foregoing, Plaintiff suffered an unlawful detention, loss of liberty, emotional distress, fear, anxiety, humiliation and degradation – all to her detriment and loss.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff respectfully requests judgment against defendants as follows:

- a. Compensatory damages against all defendants, jointly and severally;
- b. Punitive damages in an amount to be determined by a jury;
- c. Reasonable attorneys' fees and costs; and
- d. Such other relief as this Court shall deem just and proper.
